

Mrs. LePard's K News

February 22, 2018

A Sneak Peek at this Week!

Reading: We worked with nonfiction books. We reviewed all the features that authors use to write non-fiction stories and we added the features that illustrators use too. (photographs, illustrations/drawings, diagrams, and cut-aways).

Writing: We have been using thinking charts to write facts about a topic. We have been using the words "can, have, are" to help us organize our thinking. We used our last thinking chart about whales to start our first book across pages.

Math: We reviewed for our Unit 3 test and took it this week. I will share results with you at conferences soon.

Important Dates/Info

One School, One Book has officially begun! Please make sure to take the time to read to your child every night. We have a trivia question about the story the next day and are hoping kids can answer it after reading and discussing the chapter at home.

Conference sign-up was sent out via email. Please sign up ASAP, as spots will fill up quickly. Back-to-back spots are not guaranteed with this new system. Conferences are the week of March 12.

Early Release Friday will be on March 9.

March 20 is Jet's Pizza night!

Next Week's Specials

Monday: STEAM/LIBRARY

Tuesday: PE

Wednesday: MUSIC

Thursday: ART

Friday: STEAM

Homework

Math Homework is attached...

- *use a PENCIL
- *write NEATLY
- *draw with PRECISION when drawing circles...keep them small and line them up. Start circles at the top.....hook around/close.
- *FIX reversals and write numbers correctly
- *draw RECTANGLES with straight line and pokey corners

High expectations=smart kids!

